Respected Sir,

Thank you for your prompt response and for offering to meet today before 3:00 PM. I will be present at your office as requested.

However, I would like to respectfully address the points raised in your email before our meeting, so that we can have a productive and fact-based discussion.

Sir, you mentioned that "my submission and overall engagement did not fully meet the expected timelines and consistency requirements." I want to place the following facts on record respectfully:

1. GTU Project Portal Certificate (dated 1st May 2026) confirms my Internship Project Report was submitted as "Completed" — within the prescribed timeline.
2. Both presentations (Presentation-1 and Final PPT) were submitted as per the schedule communicated to us.
3. Weekly progress was maintained and I have records of the same.

Sir, I am not comparing myself to any other student. I am simply requesting that the evaluation criteria applied to my work be clearly communicated to me. Specifically, I respectfully request:

- Please specify which submission(s) were late or incomplete, with dates
- Please specify which weekly reports or daily work expectations were not met
- Please share the marking rubric or criteria used for evaluation so I can understand exactly where and why marks were deducted

This is my right as a student under GTU's transparent evaluation policy. If there are genuine shortcomings in my work that I am unaware of, I am fully willing to accept them — but I need them to be clearly stated rather than in general terms.

The reason I am putting this in writing is not to create any conflict, Sir — it is simply to ensure there is a clear and documented record of this discussion, which protects both of us.

I will meet you before 3:00 PM today as invited and I look forward to a fair and transparent discussion.

Respectfully yours,

Jainil Ramkumar Gupta
